Headaches, granulated lids, styes, pain in and around the eyes, nervousness, etc., are often the results of eye strains. We straighten crossed eyes without the knife, scissors or pain. We use no medicine in examination or treatment of the eyes, nor do we perform any surgical operation.

Results Count—Dr. Murray fitted glasses for me that have given most perfect satisfaction, more than I ever had. The glasses fitted for my aunt, Mrs. Dudder, of McKimby, are also perfectly satisfactory.

Nice Home For Sale!

Having decided to return to Somerset, I offer for sale privately my home on East Main street in Stanford. The residence is a six-room cottage, brand new, bath room and all conveniences. The lot contains about 1 1/2 acres of land and the home is a most delightful one. For further particulars call on or write me at Somerset, J. B. Beck or Wm. Beck at Stanford.

HOTEL PROPERTY AND STABLE FOR SALE!

I desire to sell privately my hotel property and livery stable in Hustonville. Building can be used as hotel or private residence and is well arranged for two families. Stable has 20 stalls and is in good repair. Plenty water at barn and hotel. If house is not sold by Jan. 1 will rent it and can give possession on that date. Can give possession of barn if rented or sold separately on Nov. 25. House and barn newly covered. Hotel is in Graded School district. For further particulars call on or address D. S. Odd Features Of An Italian Wedding.

In one of the popular churches on Baxter Street, in the center of the downtown Italian colony, the marriage record reached the startling proportion of from 20 to 30 a day, and more on Sundays, during the early Spring months. The summer is comparatively marriageless, but during the last of October and the months following until the new year the record reaches its zenith again.

The Italian believes in love, and he also believes in early marriages. Many of the girls put on the veil and orange blossoms when only 14 years old. With the Italian, marriage is a duty. There is an old saying that an unmarried man is no man. Single women are also largely unknown. Even with the progressive Italian, born on American soil, a bachelor girl, with her characteristic independence, would be a monstrosity. Some years ago Italians in this country used to send to Italy for their wives. Nowadays they are marrying more and more the Americanized Italian girls of the colony, although the custom of importing the bride still prevails to some extent.

"Love and live," is the motto of the Latin quarter. Those who have followed its decrees have worn away an inch or two from the solid stone steps of the Baxter street edifice of worship and matrimony. The worn steps also bear witness of those who go to see in the Italian world for three successive Sundays the banns are given from the pulpit, and by this means the entire colony keeps tab on the brides, and it is no doubt due to this foreknowledge that a few marriages are solemnized without the church being at least half-filled.

The Italian girl has a much easier time with her trousseau than has her American sister, for it is the duty of the Italian bridegroom to furnish both the wedding dress and the going-away gown. As the conventional honeymoon and going-away custom has not yet come into style with the Italians, the latter dress is worn on the first public appearance of the bride after the wedding. The only other place on the American continent where the bridegroom furnishes the wedding outfit is among the Zuni Indians, where the man weaves it. The wedding dress of the Italian bride is almost invariably of white satin or silk, the quality and number of yards used being regulated by the financial state of the groom.

Orange blossoms of wax are always in evidence and the bride carries a bouquet of fresh white flowers. In addition to the wedding gown, it is incumbent upon the Italian bridegroom who wishes to do the correct thing, to bestow upon the bride certain jewelry. Aside from the regulation ring, she usually receives a watch and chain, a brooch and a pair of ear rings.

The ceremony over, carriages convey the party from the church to the house or hall where the celebration is to be held. A hall is generally hired for a few hours or for the evening, and this is the most approved method, although many who can not afford this elegance of a hired hall very sensibly hold their jollification in their own place, however small. It is almost incredible how many Italians can crowd in a small room and still leave space for dancing. —Harriet Quimby in Leslie's Weekly.

Feminine Philosophy.

A man is a fool in his logic; a woman illogically wise.

Most of the puny babies you see have a cow for a stepmother.

The person who marries for money usually pays Snylock rates for it.

When a woman admits that she is jealous, she is. And when she denies it, she is.

The old bachelor is usually a person who couldn't; the old maid one who wouldn't.

Men are more forgiving than women, because they have more fellow feeling for sinners.

In the religious communities where the use of meat is forbidden appendicitis is unknown.

There is a soul mate for each man and woman in the world, and once in a while they marry.

For the safety of the public, I think most divorcees should wear signs, "Keep off the Grass."

Sickening Shivering Fits

Ague and Malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine, of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to quinine, having none of this drug's bad after-effects. E. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Tex., writes: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. For sale at Penny's Drug Store and by Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard, Ky. Price $50c, guaranteed."

Henry Dunant, now 76 years old and living in ill health near the Lake of Constance, was the originator of the Red Cross movement. It is 45 years since he began his work and 40 years since the international convention at Geneva. Dunant was first influenced by what he had read of Florence Nightingale's work in the Crimean war.

KINGSVILLE.

Manfred Chevrolet is indisposed.

Mack Williams has jaundice.

Eld C. E. Powell, of Lexington, will send us a preacher for the third Sunday, probably Mr. Hurd, of the Bible College, who will preach a trial sermon, or as Mr. Powell put it, "give us a sample."

Mr. Bob Adams, the popular traveling salesman, was here a few days ago. Mrs. Ella Reynolds and baby spent a few days at Ludlow. Mrs. Cynthia Coons, of Eubanks, spent several days with relatives here. Mrs. C. L. Bentley, who has been in delicate health for some time, was able to be out a few days since, to the delight of her many friends.

We haven't been "snowed in" or "under," not us, but our numerous and arduous duties, consisting in part of marketing and shopping besides gathering news items, social and business, for the I. J. in the metropolitan city of Kingsville, has kept us so busily engaged that we have missed one or two issues. Pardon our delinquency. We have one beautiful and obvious topic for comment in this "beautiful" snow. Just how deep it is, etc.

Episode in a Tunnel.

Maiden seated in the train,
Pocket full of money;
Down beside her sits a man—
Maiden thinks it's funny.

Quickly speeds the train along,
In a tunnel enters;
Maiden's thoughts most anxiously
On her pocket centers.

Quietly her little hand,
Toward the money stealing,
Finds a hand already there,
Robbery revealing.

Piercely clutches she the hand,
On hysterics verging,
Waiting till the train shall be
From the dark emerging.

Into the sunlight now at last
Train shoots like a rocket;
Maiden finds she has her hand
In the stranger's pocket.

A Grim Tragedy

Is daily enacted in thousands of homes as Death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oaklawn, Ind., writes: "My wife had consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1 by Penny's Drug Store and Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard, Ky.

The residence of Bert Ong, of Charleston, W. Va., was destroyed by fire, his three-year-old daughter was burned to death and he was fatally burned in an attempt at rescue.
